

FLUXCONCERT 20090220-21
FEBRUARY 20 & 21, 2009 | 8PM
TRISKELION ARTS 118 N. 11TH ST
3RD FLOOR, BROOKLYN, NY

Two evening performances of event scores written by George Brecht.

Performed by: Anthony P. Clune, Andrew Dickerson, Ryan Anthony Donaldson, Perry Garvin, Joseph Gross, Rick Herron, Ben Kerrick, Joshua Rubin, and Ethan Wagner. Organized and conducted by Perry Garvin.

A FLUXCONCERT Production
www.fluxconcert.org info@fluxconcert.org

Drip Music

For single or multiple performance. A source of dripping water and an empty vessel are arranged so that the water falls into the vessel.
1959 - 1962

Drip Music, Second Version

dripping 1959 - 1962

Five Events eating with between two breaths sleep wet hands several words November 1960

Word Event

exit
April 1961

Three Yellow Events

1 - yellow
- yellow
- yellow

2 - yellow
- loud

3 - red April 1961

Three Lamp Events

on. off.
lamp off. on.
July 1961

Three Aqueous Events

ice water steam August 1961

Two Elimination Events

empty vessel
empty vessel
August 1961

Tea Event

preparing an empty vessel
August 1961

Six Exhibits

ceiling first wall second wall third wall fourth wall floor
September 1961

Two Exercises

Consider an object. Call what is not the object "other". Add to the object, from the "other", another object, to form a new object and a new "other". Repeat until there is no more "other". Exercise: Take a part from the object and add it to the "other", to form a new object and a new "other". Repeat until there is no more object.
October 1961

Comb Music

For single or multiple performance.

A comb is held by its spine in one hand, either free or resting on an object.

The thumb or a finger of the other hand is held with its tip against an end prong of the comb, with the edge of the nail overlapping the end of the prong.

The finger is now slowly and uniformly moved so that the prong is inevitably released, and the nail engages the next prong.

This action is repeated until each prong has been used.
January 1962

Solo for Wind Instrument

[Putting it down].
March 1962

Suitcase

from a suitcase
July 1962

Concert for Clarinet

Nearby.
September 1962

Saxophone Solo

Trumpet
September 1962

Impossible Effort

Do 1.
Do 2.
December 1962

Event

pulse start pulse stop December 1962

Two Elimination Events

raining pissing
December 1962

Concert for Clarinet, Fluxversion 1

Clarinet is suspended by a string tied to its center so that it holds it in a horizontal position about 6 inches above the performer's mouth. Performer attempts to play a note without using his hands. He should do this either by swinging the reed end down or jumping up to it and catching the reed with his mouth.
1962

Egg

at least one egg January 1963

Two Durations

red green January 1963

Smoke

(where it seems to come from) (where it seems to go)
March 1963

Another Weaving

fingers between fingers
April 1963

Instruction

Turn on a radio. At the first sound, turn it off.

April 1963

Three Dances

1.

Saliva

2.

Pause.

Urination.

Pause.

3.

Perspiration

April 1963

Realization Music

emotion music

May 1963

Position

an insect nearby

May 1963

Water

coming from staying going to

May 1963

Mirror

reflecting reflecting

June 1963

Three Broom Events

broom sweeping broom sweepings

June 1963

Cork Thunder

Act I

(
(smoke)

Act II

(handshake)

Act III

(stool)

June 1963

2 Umbrellas umbrella

umbrella

June 1963

Recipe

cloth paper match string knife glass

egg

Level cloth.

Place paper on cloth.

Light match.

Extinguish.

Mark paper with burnt match.

Tie at least one knot in string.

Cut string with knife, arranging pieces on cloth.

Place glass, open upward, on cloth.

Place egg in glass.

August 1963

Symphony No. 4 record

1964

For a Drummer, Fluxversion 2

Performer drums with sticks over a leaking feather pillow making the feathers escape the pillow.

1966

Event Score

Arrange or discover an event.

Score and then realize it.

1966

Winter Event

antifreeze

Special thanks to Media Farzin-Rad, Julia E. Robinson, Abby Bender, Andrew Dickerson, and Nick Hallett.